Shielded Forensic Pouch

SFPI215W

On-site mobile device data extraction is now a reality with Select Fabricators' SFPI215W Shielded Forensic Pouch

The SFPI215W allows for hands-on manipulation of wireless devices in an RF tight environment making sure internal data is not compromised from moment of capture.

There is no need to take the captured device back to the laboratory to view the internal memory. The see-through soft material window and USB 2.0 connection allows device manipulation in the field.

SFPI215W is manufactured in the USA of SFi's proprietary Silver/Copper/Nickel fabric. This conductive, flexible material is the same fabric used over the past decade to make room sized to table top RF shielded enclosures.

Better than -75 dB, 99.95% RF Isolation from 500MHz to 6.0GHz.

Complete Kit comes with Operating Instructions and Carry Bag

More affordable than lab based non-portable metal enclosures.

Works with any portable wireless device including Smart Phones with SFi's capacitive sensing technology.

Connects to any forensic diagnostic software / computer.

BENEFITS

- USB 2.0 connector provides fast and secure evidence collection.
- Immediate on-site device manipulation and device containment for transportation.
- Works with any portable wireless device including Smart phones, Tablets, and GPS units.
